

Study on the Contributions of the Legal Industry to the Delaware Economy

Media Mention

06.2019

Delaware State Bar Association

The Delaware State Bar Association commissioned a study examining the economic impact of the legal industry on the state of Delaware. The report analyzes publicly available data and conducts traditional economic modeling to measure the economic impact of the legal industry and to understand the reasons for this impact.

Morris Nichols attorneys Mike Houghton, Lauren Neal, and Barnaby Grzaslewicz contributed to the project. View the full report via the DSBA Information & Links page.

PROFESSIONALS

Michael Houghton

Lauren K. Neal

